

Setting Up Directions

Directions

On the Google Map page, you can:

Enter your address to the location info at the top of the page. Google uses this to locate your business for the "get directions" button on the page
